Cynthia Spring

Having enjoyed 30 years in the role of an elementary school teacher, and teacher librarian, Cynthia Spring tends to look at life and its experiences through the lens of a picture book.

Thus, upon her retirement, with more free time to explore, she began playing with words and a variety of art materials.

Her two published works, while very different in style and format, are similar in that when two world issues close to her heart came into focus, she saw this as a perfect opportunity to help with fundraising by, first creating...then selling books!

She continues to enjoy creating picture books; writing stories, and experimenting with various media, to help recount the various events and happenings in her life, and encourages others to do the same!
